

CALL FOR PAPERS

New Challenges for Monetary-Fiscal Policy Interactions

6–7 October 2025
Stockholm, Sweden

Submission deadline: 30 April 2025

Sveriges Riksbank will host a research conference on “New Challenges for Monetary-Fiscal Policy Interactions”, held in person in Stockholm, Sweden, on 6–7 October 2025. The conference will focus on how to design, calibrate, and coordinate monetary and fiscal policies in today’s global economy, against the backdrop of high government debt in many countries and the recent period with high and volatile inflation.

We invite submissions of theoretical as well as empirical papers. Each presented paper will have one discussant. Presenters and discussants are expected to be present in person during the conference.

Submissions are made by sending the paper in PDF format to conference@riksbank.se no later than 30 April 2025.

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- The interaction between monetary and fiscal stability
- Monetary-fiscal policy interactions in a currency union
- The conduct of fiscal policy in open economies
- The international coordination of monetary, fiscal, and regulatory policies
- The long-term implications and trade-offs for monetary and fiscal policy
- The risk of fiscal dominance
- Monetary policy with high public debt levels

The organising committee consists of Roberto Billi, Mathias Klein, Ettore Savoia and Ulf Söderström. Authors of accepted papers will be informed by the end of June 2025. Economy-class travel and accommodation costs will be covered for paper presenters and discussants not based in the Stockholm area. The program and other information about the conference will be posted on the Riksbank conference website. Questions can be directed to conference@riksbank.se.
